

Aso Group receives Gold Standard Internship Host Award from Oxford University

We are pleased to announce that Aso Group has now been recognised as a gold standard internship host based on our consistent quality and engagement of the internship experiences.

Aso Group has been offering internship opportunities since 2015 and hosted dedicated Oxford students from all academic levels during summer.

The students have contributed to making an impact on many of the young students in the community through our outreach program which aims at developing future global leaders. In addition, they have played a key role in motivating our employees to build a global mindset through our training programs.

We would like to thank Oxford University for their continuous support and for their recognition. We would also like to thank all the past interns for their dedication and efforts to make a difference for both our community and company.

